The gentle-man states that the Amalgamated company produced enough sugar the past season to fill seven and a half miles o Another object of Mr. Eccles visit to Logan was to confer with a committee appointed by the County Farmers association, who peti-tioned him to arrange to receive beets along the railroad at any and all times that they may be delivered by the farmers during the autumn. Mr. Eccles explains, however, that it is al-most impossible to do this, as the factory is at the mercy of the railroad company in this respect.

4.—The missionary class of over 30 young men and some members of the academy faculty went out to different parts of our territory on missions durig vacation. The afternoon before Christmas, the kindergarten had some exercises, and a Christmas tree. Santa Claue came in and distributed presents to the hap-little ones. During the festivities ld Santa's beard caught fire, carrying the flames to other combustibles, and had it not been, for the presence of mind of President Kimball, who jumped orward and taking the burning hat and other blazing articles in his hands and smothering them, there might have been a conflagration of considerable magnitude. No damage was done, however, except the singeing of Santa's eyebrows. The excitement was soon ubdued, and the program completed. The primary association gave a splendid program in the evening. FARM POULTRY.

Every farm has its flock of chickens to furnish the family larder with fresh eggs for culinary purposes and chicken r stewing. The surplus goes farther of the household than the unthinking person gives them credit for. The vigor of farm poultry must be kept up in order to have profitable stock. as weak inbred stock does not thrive or lay well. There is a mistake made in calling for extremely heavy weights in a breed, writes Mr. A. Gee in Rural Home. Select birds about the standard weight for the chosen breed, and get them thick fleshed and solid Avoid a knock-kneed or crooked-backed bird and a low comb is preferable in dressed birds. The active alert hen is the layer. Select eggs from your is the layer. Select eggs from best layers for hatching and use breeds by all means, as they dress more uniformly and give the best allround satisfaction. A good poultry house has the following qualificationswarmth, dryness, brightness and cleaniness. Have a four-inch dead air space, lathed and plastered, not too much glass, low ceilings and all furniture movable. Permanent fixtures are often lice harbors. A good house could be made cheap by 2x4 studding, lathed inside, ceiled outside of studs with cheap lumber; tar paper on two of three thicknesses and side walls shinput paper on sheeting under Do not give too much feed and make them take lots of exercise. A very light mash of clover chaff, bran and oats ground fine, mixed stiff, is good in the morning, as it readily is assimilated by the fowl. Do not feed more than a quart to a dozen hens. Feed all grain in litter, and for noon give vegetables and meat in some form. Boil odds and ends of butchering rather than feed to dogs. Keep them well supplied with grit and clean water. An authority says: "Choose breed that suits your fancy best and stick to it. The law of continuity holds good in sheep breeding as well as i any other line of livestock husbandry. Fruit trees will not grow in soil sat-

The importance of keeping a few sheep on the farm is not fully realized by a great many farmers. They are the easiest stock to handle throughout the year. They are good scavengers and do more to keep up the fertility of the farm than any other of our domes tle animals.

"A friend in Wyoming county tells us that last fall he gave an order to a far-mer for half a dozen barrels of apples of mixed varieties, with strict orders to so pack the fruit that it would keep winter months and the other day he opened the last barrel. Removing the head, he found sawdust, and at first believed himself to be the victim of a joker. But as he went down into the barrel he found he had King apples in and plump as though fresh from the trees. This was a new wrinkle to him, as it is to us, and he says that hereafter all King apples that go into his cellar will be packed, as was this bar rel, in sawdust.'

Sulphur is an excellent disinfectant when burned in the poultryhouse, but as sulphur melts and smothers the ame it is difficult to burn it satisfac ly. One way to do so is to dissolve -half pint of tar and one-half pint of turpentine in one-half gallon of kersene in an open vessel. Soak in this solution large corn cobs until they are well saturated. Then take them from the solution and dust on them all the powdered sulphur that will stick to Use nails or pieces of wire and insert the pointed ends into the large end of the cobs and then stick them on matter from the poultry house, permit ting the fumes to enter every crack and crevice, all over the surface and the lice will be destroyed.

Seattle, Jan. 8.-The Times this aftericon says: It is now known what President Lucas meant when he said, 'I will fight the invaders in a way they little think of." The newly organized Pacific Coast league is to be fought in its own territory. An entirely new Pacific Coast eague is now rapidly approaching the form of completion. There will be olubs placed in San Francisco, Los Angeles, Sacramento and Oakland. It a not thought at the present writing that either Portland or Seattle will be invaded, simply because that territory is already covered by the Pacific Northwest league, the godfather of the

It was stated today that each city in the National association of Minor pagues will be drawn upon for a certain amount of money and a certain number of players. Then President Power and Secy. Farrell of the National Association of Professional Ball leagues will appoint a manager for ach of the four California cities, and he war will be on.

The National Association of Minor engues has no desire to bankrupt the ew league. In fact, as Secy. Farrell stated, if the Pacific Coast league will quit Seattle and Portland, reform the California league and come into the National association, the war will be dropped, and that at once. Otherwise it will be pushed through to the litter end, and it stands to reason that the "new" Pacific Coast league will last longer with all the minor leagues back of it than will the "new" Pacific Coast league with private capital only.

And Bar Colored Men. Young Corbett will create quite augh through the country when his announcement about drawing the cold line gains circulation. He announced from Hot Springs yesterday that he would not in the future meet a colored man, just because Gans was allowed to hox in Connecticut and he, Corbett, refused a license.

This comes rather at a late day for the champion in view of the fact that he has fought "Birdlegs" Collins, Jimmy McGuire, Ray Streeter, George Dix-on and others. All the above knights of the padded mitt were of ebony hue. Nine times out of 10 when fighter draws the color line it is because he fear a boy in black will pluck his lauels. This is why Jimmy Britt bars lans. But Britt has never met a colored boy in his life, while Corbett has.
Guess Corbett made the statement in haste and will forget all about it when he gets a chance to fight a good colored boy. Drawing the color line is again appearing as a fad and the champion wanted to be in fashion. PUGILISTIC CARNIVAL

An Interesting Time Arranged for London Ring Followers.

According to recent advices New York three good American fighters, with the redoubtable Terry Mc-Govern at their head, are likely to soon meet three slashing English pugilists, with the whiriwind Benny Jordan in their lead. The contests may occur in London, though there is a chance of their being pulled off in this country. This afternoon Dr. Ordway, the American representative of the Sporting club of London, strolled into the Marlborough hotel. Sammy Har-ris, manager of McGovern, was there, chatting with a part yof friends.

"How about Terry and Jordan meet-ing for a go at the National Sporting tor, as he shook hands with Manager Harris.

"Perfectly agreeable to me to have Terry meet Jordan," said Sammy, "i inducements are offered, and I will bet $5,000 on the outside that Terry "You would be sure of getting that much on at least,' 'said Dr. Ordway any other boy."

"They will be glad to have you come, I know." said the doctor. "But if we don't go to the other side," said Harris, "what is the matter with Jordan coming to America? If he agrees to do so we will guarantee him $500 expenses and will bet $10,000 to $5,000 or in any amount at odds of 2 to Manager Harris told Dr. Ordway that he would be willing to bot that the American stable would win all three fights. It was Manage Harris' idea that McGovern and Jor dan should meet on Derby night, and that the others clash on succeeding nights. Dr. Ordway fancied Manager Harris' scheme, and said that he would nake the proposition as laid down by Harris in his cable to the management f the National Sporting club. FUTURE OF BASEBALL. John M. Ward Has Something to Say On the Subject.

John M. Ward, who could have had the National league presidency had he been willing to accept it, has some original views in regard to the future of baseball. In a recent article writ-ten for a New York paper he says: "Two decades from now it may be no longer a mere exhibition—for that is all that it is now—an exhibition of the abil-ity of a clever manager, with more money and more tact in managerial council, to get together the best playatriotic game for blood. The time is coming when the players, instead of being bought to play in any team that calls them, irrespective of where they live and where the team is located, will belong in the locality from which the teams hails. There is a tendency apparent in that direction already."

"Of course, if this is done, there will be some work for the rules committee to do. It will be necessary to have some sort of legislation to apportion the territory fairly among the teams. New York, being the largest city in the United States, by virtue of its size, would have the advantage of a smaller city, like Boston or Baltimore, and to even up matters it would be necessary committee to give the smaller towns enough territory to make all available population the same. The de-talls must be decided by the events of the future. But I believe that somethe future. But I believe that some-thing like that is about to come and will be the feature of the game of base
